SHAUGNESSY CUP

The Concordia Stingers Football squad will host the McGill Redmen, Saturday, October 16th, for the eighth Annual Shaughnessy Cup game.

The Shaughnessy Cup, awarded annually to the winner of the Loyola/Concordia - McGill contest, is named after the legendary Frank Shaughnessy, Sr.. Shag played football under Knute Rockne at Notre Dame, as well as major league baseball, and served as President of the International Baseball League. He coached the Loyola Football team to a Dominion Intercollegiate Intermediate Championship in 1928. The Cup was donated by Canadian Schenley Distilleries. It will be presented to the winning team immediately following the contest.

Saturday's game rates a "must" for both teams. Both squads are fighting for the final playoff berth in the O-QIFC. The Stingers are out to avenge an earlier 20-12 defeat at Molson Stadium.

If Concordia does emerge victorious, it will mark the second time that they have captured the cup, in its eight years of existence. The Stingers won the Shaughnessy Cup game for the first time last season when they rallied to defeat McGill 26-25.
